On the Course...

Scott Palmer
Golf Course Superintendent

On the course this month, we will continue to spray materials for winter weed control. We will also finish up pruning crepe myrtles, loropedulum and other shrubbery on the course and clubhouse area.

Tree removal will be accomplished and selective trees will have their limbs trimmed. Ornamental bed work will continue along with installing mulch if available.

Please be sure to repair your ballmarks and please stick to the cart paths where they are available.

Thank you and happy new year.

A word from our Pro...

Lacey Fears
Head Golf Professional

Hi Members!

I'd like to share a golf tip with you that may go against what you've been previously told. Most people have been told to "keep your head down." (I cringe every time I hear this statement.) I would like you to try and let your head move and begin to look at the target sooner. Keeping your head down too long may cause several different issues including limiting your upper body rotation through impact, inability for your arms to fully extend, and improper weight shift. Give it a try next time you come hit balls and let me know how it works!

Hello everybody and Happy New Year! I hope everyone had an amazing holiday season surrounded by friends and family.

With the new year in full swing, and colder days ahead, let's talk about a flower that can survive nearly anywhere in the coldest conditions: The Coneflower.

The Coneflower is a very popular perennial that can be found in backyards and gardens across the United States. These flowers are easy to grow and offer a nonstop supply of blooms throughout their growing season. They are heat and drought resistant which makes them easy to grow, even for beginners! Once fully established in loose well drained soil, drought resistance comes into play.

Another known fact about the Coneflower is their herbal properties. They are traditionally used to treat a range of infections and malignancies. The roots and herbs have immune stimulating properties. It also has properties to heal wounds and infections such as snakebites, stings, toothaches and even the mumps.

The Coneflower can also be used as a drinking tea. Studies have shown that drinking Coneflower tea has numerous health benefits such as boosting immunity, soothing respiratory ailments, improving overall mood, pain relief and more.

I hope everyone has a great start to the new year, and as always if you have any questions, feel free to ask me!

Chef

Delasota, CEC

Happy New Year and Hello 2022!!

I want to give a huge thank you from the entire F & B team for the generosity and patience of our members. It is because of all of you that HLCC has weathered the storms over these past couple of years. You keep coming back to play golf, socialize, and most importantly (to me :)), EAT!

You all have made this Christmas season especially special to each one of us and our families at home. Thank you.

As the colder weather approaches, it brings opportunity to warm up the menu! This February, be on the lookout for a brand new dinner menu and Valentine's Day wine pairing event!

Another long overdue project and responsibility of mine as your Executive Chef is to update and complete our catering menus. As you all know, if you're a member, our room rentals and venue spaces are discounted and HLCC wants to be the venue of choice for you. With our outstanding staff, kitchen talent and delicious foods, we want to see your special event come to life from the very beginning.

You may even schedule tastings, have consultations with me, and customize your event just the way you want. With our new catering menus and outstanding staff, we can even service your event off site! Make your reservations ahead of time and reserve your space!

Merry Christmas from the De la Sotas
