This month we will continue normal operations such as mowing and rolling as weather permits. We will also be finishing up pre emerge applications for summer annual weed control. Applications will also be made with wetting agents and products to encourage spring green up. Weather permitting, we will be able to begin to top-dress putting surfaces and lower heights of cut. You may notice some construction of forward teeing grounds on various holes. This will help alleviate the pressure on the now small forward areas and help us in the future to offer more flexible course yardages.

Congratulations to Wade and Taylor Palmer on the birth of their son, Liam!

Congratulations to our very own Lacey Fears and her fiancé Seth Sanders on their recent engagement!

Members,

I want to share my gratitude with you all for being so supportive and welcoming to junior golfers at our club! It's allowed us to reach hundreds of kids across all of our programs. It is now high school golf season and we have 3 high schools that call HLCC home: Perry High School, Veterans High School, & Westfield School. This means the practice area may look a bit busier between 3:15-4:30 during the week. We have done our best to strategically schedule each school in a way that minimally disrupts member play. To avoid any confusion, we recommend calling ahead and making a tee time after 3:00. I'd like to encourage you to get to know the players and coaches if you are able as we have some really talented junior players. While some courses have gotten less and less friendly to new players and junior players, I am proud to say HLCC never waivers in our mission to grow the game of golf.

Hey everybody!! It's hard to believe we are already three months into 2023! With time moving at a steady pace, let's talk about houseplants. Today, I will be discussing two flowers that make excellent houseplants: Aloe Vera and the Peace Lily.

Let's begin with Aloe Vera. Even if you're not a plant person, you probably have heard of Aloe Vera. Not only is it good for your skin, but it also makes an excellent house plant. Aloe loves bright light, but not direct sunlight. A well-lit room would be ideal for this plant. Also, when it comes to watering, Aloe Vera plants are succulents. This means they are basically made of water! A good soak once a week will keep them happy. The only issue you should worry about when it comes to Aloe Vera is over watering, which can lead to leaves wilting or mushy leaves. If you follow the information I've shared with you, then you and your Aloe Vera plant will be fine!

The other great house plant is the Peace Lily. If you are prone to over-watering plants, then a Peace Lily is the ideal house plant for you. The Peace Lily can actually grow in water! They are also low-light plants, which means they thrive in shade or partial shade, which is ideal for office spaces. If you want to lighten up some dark rooms in your house, then a Peace Lily is the way to go.

I hope this information helps you broaden your indoor greenery. As always, if you have questions or need more details on a subject, please feel free to ask. Stay safe and stay healthy.

Happy Birthday,
@Karen Brown!
